HARDING RAIL PARLEY FAILS

Gunman Dies in Battle with Police After Shooting 3 MEN AND LINES WONT YIELD ON SENIORITY ISSUE

FALLS FIGHTING AFTER PURSUIT OF OVER MILE

Bystanders Are Hit in Running Fire.

A gunman "shot it out" with a squad from the detective bureau "back of the yards" shortly before midnight last night and was killed.

With a trail of wounded left behind him in a mad race through the district, the gunman, John Mickhaus, took refuge in his home at 5831 South Wood street. When the detectives arrived he fled out the back door directly into their ambush.

A down shot was exchanged as he stood in the rear door, with the detectives outlined boldly in the light from the kitchen. Finally a shot fired by Detective Sergeant Edward Kennedy brought him to the ground.

Three Persons Wounded.

The wounded in the gunman's flight from the police and in a battle he waged in a saloon before he started to run are:

ALEX CZINIAS, 4614 South Paulina street, shot through the chest and probably will die.

JULIUS CELKAS, 17 years old, 4544 Marshall avenue, shot in the right arm.

CHARLOTTE DANIELS, 18 years old, 4614 Marshall avenue, shot through the chest in German Des Moines hospital.

Bursts Into Saloon.

A down man were gathered in the saloon of Martin Marinkiewicz, 4634 South Paulina street.

Suddenly the door opened and a big man, hatless and with his clothes in disorder, charged into the room.

"I'm going to kill you!" he shouted, and aimed a revolver at Marinkiewicz, who was behind the bar.

The crowd ran to cover as the gunman fired. The shot went wild and felled Czinias.

With the weapon still covering the crowd, Mickhaus backed out the door, which in the New City police station, Wagonmen Keating, Moran, and Foran had heard the shots and dashed toward the saloon. They saw the gunman running and turned after him.

Fires As He Runs.

He fired as he ran. At 46th street and Marshall avenue one of his wild shots at the policemen hit Miss Daniels, who was passing, and in the next instant young Celkas was wounded in a similar manner.

He gained on his pursuers and they lost him in the night shadows.

Next, John J. Farrell of the detective bureau and a rifle squad touring the south side had just arrived at the New City station. They took up the chase and spectators told them of the shot the fugitive had taken.

Surrounded in House.

The policemen chased the fugitive into the house at 5831 South Wood street. Lt. Farrell led his men around to the back, and deployed them in the yard. In a moment the door was thrown open and the yard flooded with light. With his back to the door, the gunman started firing into the five detectives. They in their turn opened up on the figure silhouetted in the door.

As Detective Sergeant Kennelbach got into action, the gunman's hands went up and his revolver fell from his grasp. Then he slowly slumped to the ground. A bullet had pierced his heart.

New City station police in the meantime had arrested Marinkiewicz and taken what was back of the attack. Czinias, unconscious, was taken to the county hospital, where it was said he had a slight chance for recovery.

AN HEIR AT LARGE

CHAPTER XLIX.

Mary Brook was profoundly agitated by Muriel's whispered warning, "As you love your mother, as you love your happiness, don't marry him!" The words were too horrid in their implication to be disregarded and she paused to regain a semblance of composure before facing Harry L. Rasher. He came to her at once.

"What's the matter, Mary? You're as pale as a ghost." He put his hands on her shoulders. "Why, you're trembling all over!"

"I'll be all right in a minute." Her voice was barely above a whisper, and her effort to steady it was apparent. She made a brave attempt to turn the conversation. "How did your conference with Mr. Lannard come out?"

"Please tell me, Mary. Did Muriel say anything—or your mother, she isn't worse, is she?"

"No, Harry, it isn't that. It's really nothing—much. Just something that upset me for a moment." She tried gently to disengage his hands.

"If there is anything I can do, Mary—You know I would do anything for you." Her eyes fell, and she made no further effort to withdraw from his hold.

"You know that, Mary, don't you?" he persisted. "You surely know I love you." She wringed free from him then, and flung herself into a chair.

"O, please, Harry, not now—please wait—come to-morrow, or this evening," she cried, her face buried in her hands. He knelt beside her and put his arm about her shoulder.

"Mary, I worship you. You're been pure sunshine in my life since I've known you. I love you with every beat of my heart—with my whole soul, and I never want to be away from you as long as I live." His voice was now trembling with deep emotion. "Please, dear, let me share whatever it is that troubles you."

He felt her shoulders quiver and knew she was sobbing.

"Please, Harry," she murmured, "I'm so unstrung today. Won't you leave me now—and wait just a little while?" She looked up, and he saw tenderness in her eyes. If he could have looked into her heart at that moment he would have read all he hoped to find written there. She longed to yield herself to him, every fiber of her body ached for his embrace, but she could not. This impulse of her heart arose in her mind Muriel's imploring warning, unmistakably sincere, implying some dreadful thing the nature of which she could not even guess. She could love him in spite of any crime he may have committed in that velvet past before he came to Adamant. But there might be other things—barriers too great to be overcome. She must hear from Muriel's own lips whether there was any real reason why she must never marry Harry L. Rasher.

These thoughts agonized her, and the man kneeling beside her saw that she was suffering deeply. He knew it would be the merciful thing to leave her now. But he had already delayed too long. Unfortunately he must have her decision this afternoon. Today she thought him poor; tomorrow she would know that he was the heir of the Livingston estate, the possessor of a vast fortune. If she accepted him now, it would be an expression of pure love, unalloyed by the faintest shadow of a mercenary motive.

He was foolish, perhaps, but he was determined. It must be today; tomorrow would be too late. He gripped in his mind for the words to express this, and when he spoke he was conscious they were crudely inopportune.

"Mary, I want you to marry me. Under other circumstances I would be willing to wait years for you to decide, but today things have come up which make me hope you will say yes now."

His words had a sobering effect on Mary. Unwelcomed thoughts crowded forward. Why must he know today? Why should a delay of a few hours matter? This insistence upon an immediate answer vaguely gave support to Muriel's warning. She took his hands and looked searchingly into his eyes.

"Why must you know today?" she asked in a low voice.

"I can't tell you, Mary. It seems queer, I know, but you will understand soon. You trust me, don't you?" For a long time she was silent. Up to half an hour ago she would have trusted him implicitly. But in his really loved her, and there were no real obstacles, what could a short delay matter?

"Harry, I can't give my answer today. You, too, must think it quiet, for I do love you—so deeply that I am frightened. You are never out of my mind. I think of you first in the morning, and with my last conscious thoughts at night. I'm sure you have known this—she smiled faintly—"I'm not good at dissimulating." Then her face sobered. "But we seem to be in the same awful dilemma. Something came up today which makes it impossible for me to give you my answer now. Tomorrow perhaps. I'm sorry—more sorry than I can say."

She laid a gentle hand on his hair, and for a moment longer he remained on his knees, helpless, inwardly cursing whatever had made him leave so small a margin of time for the settlement of this all-important part of his affairs. Then, after an awkward pause, he left the house.

ILLINOIS COAL TRUCE HINTED BY FARRINGTON

Separate Agreement Plan Probable.

Changes in the policy of the United Mine Workers of America that would clear the way for prompt settlement of the coal miners' strike in this state, through separate agreement with the operators, will be authorized shortly, according to a prediction made last night by Frank Farrington, head of the Illinois miners.

President Farrington, still in Cleveland to attend further sessions of the conferences between union leaders and certain operators that convened a week ago, was reached over long distance telephone.

Mr. Farrington was told of reports that Gov. Small might summon representatives of Illinois operators and mine workers to a joint conference in an effort to end the strike.

"If Gov. Small will 'lay off' two or three days," he said, "I believe we'll iron out difficulties at the meetings we are holding here."

"Do you mean the strike will be settled in Cleveland this week?" the state miners' chief was asked.

"No," he replied, "but developments will be headed that way, so far as Illinois is concerned at least."

"In other words, I believe now just as I have from the outset—that the end of the strike can come only through separate agreements between operators and the union in each of the four states of the central competitive field, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and western Pennsylvania."

Opposed by Lewis.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, steadfastly has held out against any proposal for separate settlements, insisting upon one four state agreement. And the policy committee of the international organization several months ago refused to authorize Mr. Farrington to seek a separate settlement. President Farrington was reminded of these facts.

"That's just the point," he replied. "I believe President Lewis and the policy committee as a whole have come to realize that they must yield on this point, and I believe they will do so. Perhaps tomorrow, perhaps the next day."

The question of arbitration, which has been a snag at the Cleveland conferences between operators and union leaders, probably would bob up in any conference Mr. Farrington and his associates might have with Illinois operators.

Attitude of Operators.

In connection with prospects for ending the strike in this state, Dr. F. C. Hennock, secretary of the Illinois Mine Operators' association, called at Joliet to the fact the operators of this state ten days ago offered to take the strikers back, the wage scale in effect prior to the walkout to prevail until March 31, 1923, and all questions in dispute to be submitted to arbitration. The miners oppose arbitration.

"The question of arbitration is one of the things we would thrash out at our conference with Illinois operators," Mr. Farrington said last night.

Speed Up Deliveries.

Meanwhile, Robert M. Medill, state fuel administrator, will proceed with his program for speeding up deliveries of fuel from eastern mines now in operation. With an adequate clerical force, Mr. Medill will open headquarters today in the offices of the Illinois commerce commission in the City Hall Square building.

Two committees to supervise the rationing of coal—one for Cook county and one for downstate—are to be appointed by Gov. Small tonight. Chicago operators for fuel must go first to the Cook county committee. If approved, they will go to the federal fuel administration at Washington.

COAL PEACE WEDNESDAY?

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 13.—[Special.]—The peace coal conference here into its second week tomorrow with union chiefs declaring that settlement of the bituminous strike will be here by Wednesday. No meetings were held on the fourth.

None of the principals in the case or their attorneys appeared around the courtroom during the afternoon.

Hurl 3 Bombs at Passenger Train; 10 Hurt

North Bergen, N. J., Aug. 13.—Three bombs hurled at the Weehawken local of the West Shore railroad as it crossed a culvert near Granton junction tonight shattered the windows of three coaches and injured ten persons, five seriously, officials of the road reported.

The train, filled with passengers returning home after the week-end holidays, was traveling slowly as the explosion came. It was rumbling across the bridge when the entire train was shaken by the three detonations. The passengers were thrown into a panic.

Trio Seen in Automobile.

The police learned that shortly before the local was due at Granton, an automobile, said to have carried three men, was seen standing by the side of the railroad right of way.

A wrecking crew sent to the scene helped the damaged train into Weehawken, where the more seriously injured were given first aid.

Passengers alighting at Weehawken said the first bomb struck the third car of the train with a blinding glare, rocking the coach.

Second Bomb Is Smaller.

A second bomb struck the fourth car with a lighter detonation and less damage. While the train was slowing down in obedience to an emergency signal cord a third bomb exploded a few hundred feet behind.

WIFE, THEN DEATH

SCORN SLAVE OF BREADLESS ART

Hungry Spouse Leaves and Poison Fails.

Art gave up a losing battle against style when John Halstead, 24 year old war veteran and painter, took poison yesterday in his studio, 15 West Pearson street, in a futile effort to end his life. At Polyclinic hospital it was said he would recover.

Halstead went to France and in the Argonne forest was severely gassed. While in a hospital at the rear he met pretty Marie Louise, a French girl, and they were married. To America they came, and for a time they were happy. He was a commercial artist and making good money.

Leaves Door Ajar to Wolf.

But the boy had ambitions. He wanted to "do the finer, loftier things" in art and neglected bread winning to perfect his technique. William Cochran, landlord of his home in the heart of the north side Bohemian district, said the two were nearly destitute last winter.

Mary Louise demanded luxuries like her American sisters and was impatient at an art which failed to supply them. The last straw came to her when John went away this summer to an art school at Bailey's Harbor, Wis.

He wrote Thursday that he was coming home, and Mary Louise promptly packed her few belongings and departed.

"Bew of the Angels" Falls.

When Halstead arrived Saturday and found his wife missing, he was almost frantic. Cochran found her in the loop and brought her home in an attempt at reconciliation. It failed.

Then Halstead went into a rear room and drank a large quantity of veronal. He fell unconscious.

"I took the sweetest dose of the angels' brew," he moaned in delirium last night.

Efforts of the heads of the Big Four brotherhoods, in the role of mediators for the shopmen, it was disclosed, had failed last night in a final conference with the committee of the Association of Railroad Executives brought about. It is understood, at the suggestion of President Harding.

At that conference it was proposed that the issue of seniority, instead of being referred back to the railroad labor board, as President Harding suggested, be submitted to some form of outside arbitration.

It was emphatically rejected by the railroad executives, who insisted that they must stand their ground on the seniority issue and that railroad employees, under the decision of the railroad labor board, when they go on strike in defiance of the board's rulings, automatically cease to be employees of the railroads or within the jurisdiction of the board and lose their seniority status.

Door Still Open to Peace.

Officials of the brotherhoods and striking shopmen, denying that the suggestion of arbitration had originated with them, did not make public the unions' reply to the President, but took the position tonight that the door is not closed to further negotiations.

L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, speaking for the unions, said:

"We have no statement to make. We are awaiting developments and are hopeful of finding some way to help. We are not so not so well as we are. We are going to stay here at least until congress convenes next Tuesday, and also to be on hand should the President want us. As soon as we can make a statement we will do so."

Rate Status Is Unchanged.

"I desire to call attention to the fact that a great deal has been said about seniority standing in the way of a settlement. That is only one of many questions. The real issue, as we

BY GRANTON WILCOX.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—President Harding's latest effort to settle the railroad shopmen's strike collapsed here today on the seniority issue and the country now faces the prospect of a general transportation tieup, with the nonstriking operatives of the railroads supporting the cause of the shopmen by refusing to take out defective equipment or to work under protection of armed guards.

The majority of the railway executives, according to their answer to the President, make public today, proposed to reinstate the strikers "where vacancies exist" or to place them in similar positions, but insisted the railroad labor board should review and decide the problem of seniority.

The minority report insisted that only enough men be taken back "to fill vacancies."

Harding to Inform Nation.

It is understood the President will go to the people within the next forty-eight hours with a statement of the case. The probabilities are that before doing so he will go over the entire situation at Tuesday's cabinet meeting and that his declaration of position will follow that session.

His announced "final call" for a voluntary strike settlement having failed, President Harding is expected to go before congress for legislation authorizing him to take more pointed action. He already has informed house leaders that he desired a uniform in that body when he brought about Tuesday, after its six weeks' recess, in order that congress may be prepared to act in case emergency legislation should be sought by the administration. It is possible that his public statement of the strike situation may take the form of a message to congress.

ANXIOUS EYES OF G. O. P. SCAN LABOR TURMOIL

Strikes May Cost
Victory in Fall.

ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—What will be the political effect of the coal and railroad strikes?

As the question of chief concern at present to political leaders, the anxiety among the Republicans is not without foundation. That the result of the national election next November will be determined by the sentiment of the voters is a fact. The sentiment of the voters is determined by the industrial situation at the time of the election and upon the public opinion of the record of the administration in dealing with strikes.

May Cost G. O. P. House.

Strikes continue to hamper business and incommode the public generally, and the political atmosphere becomes overcharged with the feeling that the administration is to blame for not preventing or minimizing these industrial disturbances. The Republicans, he adds, are likely to fare badly in the election. They might lose the house and suffer a marked reduction of their majority in the senate.

The strikes have greatly aggravated the situation already regarded by Republicans as a matter of how long it will take to get the country back to normal. The evidence of widespread discontent, of dissatisfaction with the administration, of the feeling that the country is being run down, are likely to fare badly in the election. They might lose the house and suffer a marked reduction of their majority in the senate.

BIG FOUR CHIEFS FAIL AS PEACEMAKERS

Acting in the role of mediators for the striking railway shopmen, the heads of the Big Four brotherhoods have been in conference at Washington with the committee of the Association of Railroad Executives. The conference was arranged at the instance of President Harding. Last night it was reported to have resulted in failure. The photo shows (left to right): L. B. retain control of congress, President Harding will still have an opportunity to carry out his program and to dissipate any question of his renomination. If the Republicans lose the house, the President's plans will be defeated by Democratic obstruction in the next congress. Mr. Harding will be beset by insurgency in his own party bent upon retiring him as a one term man, and the Democrats will take on a new lease of life founded on the hope of dividing the vote.

From the viewpoint of cold political expediency, it could wish that Cox had won in 1920, and a Republican senate, who think he has a chance of landing the presidential nomination in 1924 in the event Mr. Harding should not be renominated. Since the Democrats would have had to handle the reconstruction and deflation problem. They would have had to liquidate the enormous extravagance of their own war administration. They would have been blamed for hard times and strikes. They would have been thoroughly discredited in the 1922 election, and we would come back in 1924 with clear sailing ahead.

Administration on Trial.

The administration will be on trial in the November election and the result will be the popular verdict. The fortunes of candidates closely identified with the administration will be materially affected by the popular estimate of the Harding regime.

This will be particularly the case in Ohio, where Carmel Thompson, close personal friend of the President, a leader of the Harding faction in Ohio politics, is the Republican candidate for governor, and Representative Pease, who as chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee has been a Harding administration booster, is the Republican candidate for senator.

Altogether it looks as if the result in Ohio would turn upon the popular opinion of the administration. The Republican leaders will make a strenuous effort to prevent a repudiation of the President by his own state. "Stand by the administration," will be the cry in the Republican ranks.

Strikes May Decide Election.

Unless the railroad strike is settled speedily there will be critical conditions in the west on account of inability of farmers to send their products to market. The northwest in particular, will be a danger spot for the Republicans, for that part of the country would be threatened with a coal famine in addition to other troubles, even if the coal strike were settled at once.

In Minnesota Senator Kellogg, a staunch administration supporter, is up against a hard fight for reelection. The first test of the standing of the administration will be afforded by the Maine election next month, in which Senator Hale, an intimate friend of the President, is seeking reelection. The Republicans will have an army of speakers in Maine in the next two or three weeks and will spare no effort to gain comfort from the adage "As Maine goes, so goes the country."

JOLIET BIG FOUR REJECT PARTIAL TROOP REMOVAL

Prospect for End of Tieup
Again Glimmers Out.

Joliet, Ill., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Instigated by the railroad workers that troops sent here to enforce order after Sheriff Newkirk had been shot down by withdrawal from the rail yards continues to tie up all activity on the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern. Conferences today, in which peace was hoped for, came to nothing.

The chief proposal of the railroad management and the authorities in charge of the troops, that the soldiers would be withdrawn from the main gate of the E. J. & E. yards, was received by the brotherhood conferees with a blunt refusal. The demand of the rail workers was that the troops be entirely withdrawn from the zone of railway activities.

Sheriff Newkirk's Better.

The condition of Sheriff Newkirk is somewhat improved. But he remains in a hospital with a bullet in his head. He was shot down when striking railroad employees refused to go on strike. It was because of the shooting of Newkirk that troops were sent in. Since that time there have been no dangerous outbreaks.

In the last few days there have been a number of conferences between delegates from the Big Four brotherhood unions in Joliet, the engineers, firemen, conductors, and trainmen on one side and representatives of the railroad management on the other, seeking a settlement. Pending this settlement, the brotherhood unions have refused to operate trains over the belt lines, and quantities of freight have been tied up.

Fear for Safety.

Their plea is that they cannot, with safety, operate under armed guards; that to do so would be to endanger their lives, already committed to a hazardous occupation.

The railroad managements have offered various expedients, but without success. The last of these was the offer to withdraw all guards from the gate. This would permit all workers to enter and depart freely and, without appearance of police protection. Today this proffered compromise was rejected.

Opposes Moving Troops.

The demand of the railroad workers now remains that all armed guards be removed entirely from the vicinity of the yards. It is supposed there will be further negotiations today.

Col. Fred Bennett, prominent Joliet attorney and member of the Joliet As-

DENOUNCES BIG 4 DESERT STRIKE AS CONSPIRACY

The action of members of the Big Four brotherhood in abandoning through passenger trains at Needles, Cal.; Barstow, Cal.; and Seligman, Ariz., was denounced last night as a deliberate conspiracy, a violation of their solemn agreements with the railroad, and an inhuman act by A. G. Wells, vice president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway.

"None of the reasons given for these lawless acts is valid," Mr. Wells declared. "The Santa Fe has asked no man to take out unsafe equipment. It has no unsafe equipment and has been and is literally meeting all requirements of the safety appliances act. Inspectors of the bureau of safety, interstate commerce commission, have made many examinations recently of the Santa Fe power and given the company a clean bill of health."

"For justification of their lawless and inhuman conduct at Needles and other desert places the men are driven to refer to some bomb throwing a few days ago at San Bernardino, 250 miles away from Needles."

"This sympathetic strike on the Santa Fe is not only a conspiracy but it is also without the least substantial justification, actual conditions considered. I am advised no responsible officer of the Big Four brotherhoods has been on the ground at Needles to learn true conditions."

"The people marooned at Needles, including those whose destinations were to eastern points, have been starved back toward Los Angeles on a train manned by officials, which left Needles at 5:45 this morning."

Association of Commerce, said he was unalterably opposed to any withdrawal of troops.

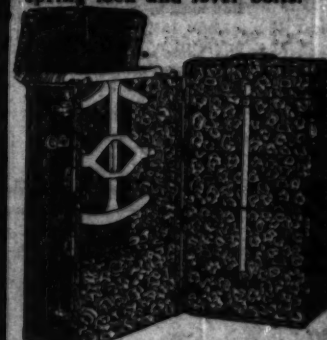

"Apparently," Col. Bennett said, "some of the Big Four brotherhood are of the opinion they are greater than the state. I do not think, however, this is the opinion of the majority among them."

"The troops here represent the peace and dignity of the state, and I am sure they will not be moved until actual peace is established."

FRENCH STICK TO DEMANDS; MAY WRECK ENTENTE

Hope to Settle German Problem Is Dark.

BY JOHN STEELE
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service)
LONDON, Aug. 13.—The international conference on German reparations still continues and seems little nearer a settlement. Today has been a day of rest for the premier, Mr. Lloyd George having gone to Chequers, while the others occupied themselves with visiting and sightseeing.

The committee of experts finished its second report last night and are no nearer an agreement than before. The British, Belgians and French are generally agreed in opposition to the French proposals.

The chief points of difference are the French demands for control of German mines and forests and the length of the moratorium to be granted next year after a short moratorium, which all agree must be given now.

"Distinctly Dark," Britisher Says.
The French are insisting upon a limit of three months while the other allies are satisfied that nothing less than a year will do any good. The French made one small concession. They are willing to extend the first moratorium to cover private debt payments as well as to reparations, but they still insist upon guarantees as a condition to granting the moratorium, that the other allies consider impossible.

"Distinctly dark," was a British diplomat's reply to my query tonight about the outlook. "We are just where we were a week ago."

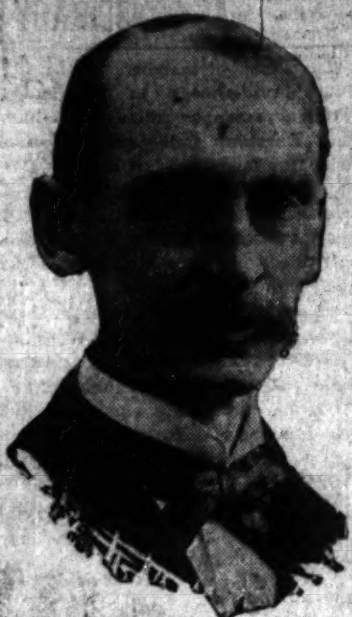

French Still Optimistic.
The French are still unaccountably optimistic, and are making a great play with the solitary concession they have made. The Belgians and Italians are trying to persuade them to be more reasonable, but without success, as far as is known.

It is believed, however, in some circles that they will back down at the last moment rather than choose isolation from the allies. An informal meeting has been fixed for 11 o'clock tomorrow morning between Mr. Lloyd George, Mr. Poincaré, Mr. Thiéss, Sir Schanzer, and Baron Hayashi. If anything results from these conversations a plenary meeting of the conference will be summoned later in the day.

Reached Limit, Poincaré Says.
PARIS, Aug. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Journal's London correspondent informs his paper that Premier Poincaré said to him tonight: "I have reached the limit of the sacrifices which I am prepared to make to maintain the entente. I cannot return to Paris, having granted a moratorium, without at least having obtained control of the Ruhr mines."

M. E. MISSIONS BOYCOTT U. S. BOATS IN ORIENT

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service)
SHANGHAI, Aug. 13.—The Methodist Episcopal board of foreign missions announced today what amounts to a boycott of new shipping board boats in travel on the Pacific ocean. The announcement, printed in the missionary paper here, gives economy as the reason for the boycott and says

"This constitutes virtually a boycott of the two American lines that are operating splendid shipping board boats. It establishes that line of demarcation which was laid at one time to have divided travelers into two classes—poker players and missionaries. As Americans we regret having to shun our own boats in favor of British, Japanese and Chinese liners. Perhaps the loss of missionary trade will move the American companies to provide second class accommodations or out the rates for first class service to missionaries. Perhaps the American churches will have enough pride and patriotism to see that their ambassadors of the gospel and good will are not made the scapegoats of lost vision and small collections." The Methodists recommend similar action by all other American mission boards, which if taken, is certain to have a disastrous effect on travel on Pacific boats. There are thousands of American missionaries in the far east field.

LLOYD GEORGE'S BOOK TO PLAY BIG PART IN BRITAIN

Sale Will Make Premier
Independent of Job.

BY JOHN STEELE

Chicago Tribune Foreign Service, London, Aug. 13.—[By Telegram.]—The sale of Prime Minister Lloyd George's book, of which The Chicago Tribune and the New York Times have bought the American serial rights, may have a far-reaching effect on British politics. Mr. Lloyd George is a poor man and is dependent on his salary for a living. He will realize about $450,000 by the sale of the book. The interest on this will enable him to permanently an income equal to the premier's salary.

He will be able, therefore, to take a more independent line, and it is said he proposes doing so when the resignation of the cabinet comes in the fall, and the Tories insist, as they intend to do, on a large representation.

Will Let Others Try It.
Mr. Lloyd George will be free to tell his own story, and he will be able to take over the government more favorably to his resumption of power. I am told by his closest friends that this is his plan. Mr. Lloyd George is a Conservative, but it is not thought that his resignation will last long. It is expected that the country will be recalled to Mr. Lloyd George within a year.

To Give World the Truth.
LONDON, Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Lloyd George, in announcing today that he will resign, has secured the serial and book rights for the Chicago Tribune and the New York Times, which will doubtless arrange for simultaneous publication by newspapers in all leading cities of America and Canada.

Gets Record Price.
Returning to the price paid, the Sunday Times have the aggregate amount of the contracts will yield $100,000 ($50,000 each).

This prediction total for rights in a single volume, it adds, "establishes a record which is not likely to be beaten in any time, and it is interesting to note that it is more than double the sum paid for the entire rights in the Kaiser's memoirs, which is to be issued this autumn."

Here's a pointer for men bent on savings—

Prices on all men's Summer suits substantially revised. Perhaps the greatest interest centers around those now $45 and $50.

They're all included—

Every straw hat in our store on the bargain table. $2.25 for hats that were $3.50 to $4.50.

As for shirts—

A clean-up of fancies as well as tan and plain white. $2.00 for shirts that were $3.00 to $4.50.

A little fluff in men's neckwear. Mostly fancy silks with a sprinkling of knitted ties—$2.00 to $2.50 grades, $1.45.

UNCLE SAM GOOD JUDGE OF LIQUOR, BUSCH DECLARES

Buys the Best for Shipping Board.

New York, Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Traveling is comfortable and the liquor excellent on the United States shipboard ships, according to August A. Busch, St. Louis brewer, who, following his return on the George Washington last week, issued a statement today seeking again to establish an inconsistency on the part of the United States government in pursuing its own lucrative liquor business at sea and prosecuting private bootleggers on land.

Conspiracy of Passengers.
He described a conspiracy of passengers, which for some reason was not carried into effect, to buy a quantity of whiskey on the ocean from the government of the United States, carry it on land with them, and invite prosecution. These passengers had an idea that it might embarrass the government to punish on land a set of men who alleged that they had been corrupted by the government at sea.

The government in its wet department is buying abroad whiskey, while its dry departments are solemnly asking Great Britain to assist in preventing violations of the prohibition amendment, according to Mr. Busch.

Jekyll and Hyde.
While the Mr. Hyde end of the government was purveying hard liquor in quantities to the wealthy patrons of the merchant marine, the Dr. Jekyll section has driven American hotels out of business because they cannot compete with illegal liquor sellers, according to the argument of the brewer.

Poachers Shoot Chicagoan
Who Is U. S. Game Warden

Quonell Bluffs, Ia., Aug. 12.—E. A. Lindgren, 22, federal game warden for western Iowa, was shot and probably fatally wounded today by three men whom he intercepted while they were killing game birds. Lindgren arrived here, three weeks ago from Chicago, where his family is living.

CLOVER, 51 YEAR OLD HORSE, GETS $100 GIFT FROM MRS. HARDING

Ottawama, Pa., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Mrs. Warren G. Harding has presented a check for $100 to "Clover," a 51 year old horse. In a letter to the animal's owner, the Rev. Dr. Meyers, the President's wife expressed herself as deeply moved by the "name of justice and gratitude and faithfulness which compels you to sacrifice your comfort rather than kill a splendid horse which has given you a long life of willing service."

"For example's sake," she added, "I hope 'Clover' will long continue to be the oldest horse in the world, and that somehow there will grow an impression that the loving God never intended either dumb friends or self-sacrificing men to be consigned to mother earth merely because the most and best of their strength has been exhausted in human service."

Three Federal Dry Agents
Attacked by Crowd; 6 Held

Great Kill, N. Y., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Three federal agents were attacked by an outing party of 200 persons this afternoon, with women urging the assault, when they raided Sauer's hotel, on Shell road, near this place. The officers arrested six persons. The raiders, John Kerrigan, William Stafford, and Peter Reager, members of the flying squadron of the New York City prohibition forces, had been treated by an ambulance surgeon for cuts and bruises following the battle.

GERMANS, FORCED OUT OF ALSACE, FACE SUFFERING

Berlin, Aug. 13.—[By the Associated Press.]—Reports from the Alsace frontier indicate that considerable physical and financial hardships are being imposed on German families who are now being forcibly deported across the Rhine. The minister of the interior has authorized the German Red Cross to establish receiving stations at various points in Baden, where refugees now are finding temporary assistance.

The local French authorities claim that they are not in a position to modify the expulsion orders, as they emanate from Paris and carry instructions that they shall be carried out on short notice.

Among the families deported are many which have resided in Alsace-Lorraine twenty years or more and were about to take out naturalization papers. Consternation prevails among all classes of Germans in Alsace-Lorraine, who fear that the present expulsions only mark the beginning of deportations on a wholesale scale.

4 INJURED WHEN PLANE FALLS 250 FEET AT DETROIT

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 13.—One man was probably fatally injured and three others severely injured when an airplane was dashed to pieces in a field near Redford, ten miles northwest of Detroit, today.

The machine, piloted by Guy K. Rudd, Detroit, carried two friends of Rudd and one commercial passenger. The latter, Martin Driscoll, 35, of Detroit, suffered a broken arm, a broken leg, probable fracture of the skull, and was severely shocked. Driscoll's friends say he cannot live.

Rudd was out and bruised and is suffering from shock. Carl Mager, 11, Roseville, Mich., and Harold Whitman, friends of Rudd, received broken legs and bruises and are suffering from shock. The three are in a Detroit hospital, where it is said they will recover.

Goes Into Nose Dive.
The party of four had just left Redford, and the machine was about 250 feet in the air when it suddenly went into a nose dive. The machine was demolished, but did not catch fire.

G. L. Ceras, who had taken pictures of the plane just before it left the field, was invited to ride, but when he stepped over to a nearby automobile to tell his wife, the machine took the air without him. He saw the fall and took pictures of the wreck.

The machine was a German machine which had been service in the war. Rudd was unable to tell what caused it to fall, asserting that "something went wrong."

Two Killed in Ohio.
Cleveland, O., Aug. 13.—Louis Yahn, 31, Newark, N. J., and James Ray, 21, mechanical and aviator at the Medina Aviation club, were killed late today when their airplane went into a tail spin and fell about 300 feet as they were preparing to land at Chippewa lake, near Medina, O.

Governor of Maine Urges
State to Cut and Burn Wood

Augusta, Me., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Governor Baxter has announced a slogan which he hopes will stir the people of Maine into action in coping with the fuel crisis. It is "Cut a cord of wood and out out coal." The governor calls for the organization of big "wood chopping bees" as a further means of relief and there is every indication of a widespread response.

3 BOYS HELD ON ROCKY LEDGE OF YOSEMITE FALLS

Yosemite, Cal., Aug. 13.—Three youths, Ivan L. Anderson, Robert Brown, and Clifford Brown, all of Salt Lake City, were marooned last night on the rocky apron which separates upper from lower Yosemite falls, 1,000 feet from the floor of the valley.

Returning from a trip to the crest of the falls late today the youths decided to blaze a new trail to camp and at darkness found themselves caught in the spray which the falls give off on the ledge between the second and third drops to the Merced river.

S. F. Towntley, chief government ranger; Sol Rich, his assistant, and a corps of volunteers were sent to the rocky ledge from the valley tonight in an effort to extricate the boys, but it is feared they will not be able to effect a rescue until daylight.

REBELS TRAP OWN MEN IN MAD RUSH TO BURN UP CORK

Hasty Retreat Surprises Terrified People.

DUBLIN, Aug. 12.—[By the Associated Press.]—The latest advice received from Cork is to the effect that with the exception of the postal service conditions are normal.

During the burning of the barracks and other buildings there several of the irregular troops were entrapped and had to be rescued by means of ladders. The constant explosion of bombs and the rifle firing created terror among the residents.

A correspondent who visited Cork says the nearest point to the city by rail was Waterford, about sixty-five miles to the east. From Waterford he had to travel by tramp steamer, which plied around the coast for fourteen hours before it reached Queenstown.

Queenstown Ravaged by Fire.

At Queenstown were the first signs of devastation caused by the retreating irregulars. Only the blackened shell remained of Admiralty house, while the Royal Naval hospital had been completely burned. A row of houses by the water's edge were disfigured by shrapnel and most of the windows broken. A mile or two up Passage West, leading to Cork, could be seen the protruding portions of vessels the rebels had sunk to block the entrance to Cork harbor.

After indications of the intention to make a stand, the residents of Cork were surprised when they saw the rebels bolting on the approach of the national troops. The advance of the Free Staters was a signal for sudden activity at the headquarters of Erskine Childers, and Miss Mary MacSwiney, motorcycle dispatch riders were sent in all directions ordering the residents of certain localities to quit their homes.

A few minutes later barracks throughout the city and police headquarters were ablaze. So hastily was the work of destruction begun that a number of irregulars themselves were caught in burning buildings and rescued with difficulty.

Rebels Rush to Escape.

Barrels of oil were poured over the floors in buildings selected for destruction and the oil ignited. Meantime

"COUNT" YASELLI IS HERE AGAIN FOR RUM RAID TRIALS

Dapper "Count" William D. Yasselli will be seen again in Chicago early this week.

Yasselli, who has been a government witness before Federal Judge James H. Wilkeson against saloonkeepers and cabaret proprietors in whose establishments he posed some weeks ago as a thirty-year-old bon vivant.

Nine victims of the "boose anop-er de luxe" will be prosecuted on the charges of violating the Volstead act by Assistant U. S. District Attorney Joseph J. Merensky, Roscoe C. Andrews, and Harry L. Brin.

Yasselli also has it that three other Federal investigators, posing as "men about town" and living in a loop hotel, are soon to make several arrests among proprietors of high class cafes on the same charge.

Griffith's Work Goes On, Pledge of Irish Chiefs

DUBLIN, Aug. 13.—[By the Associated Press.]—The death of Arthur Griffith has had a stunning effect upon a majority of the people of Dublin, who recognized in him the greatest force behind the Anglo-Irish treaty.

Numerous expressions of sympathy have been received by Mrs. Griffith among them messages from King George, the Irish political leaders, and the Irish bishops.

After testifying his sympathy for the message of King George added: "In spite of his untimely death, I pray that Ireland may soon receive the peace for which he labored."

The Irish government issued a statement expressing its firm determination to carry on the life-work of Mr. Griffith "to achievement which he so nearly realized." The body of Mr. Griffith will lie in state in the city hall until Wednesday.

CROWE RAIDERS FIND 8 WOMEN IN FALSE WALL

Raiders from the state's attorney's office visited the "Schoolhouse" at Chicago Heights late Saturday night. All was innocent enough, apparently.

But after they found only men at a dozen other places, the state's attorney's secretary and his men decided to pay a return visit to the "Schoolhouse." Still there was nothing but a peaceful gathering of men.

This time, however, they made a more thorough search and found eight women hidden behind a false wall in one of the rooms. Three men and the eight women were arrested.

Painters Locked in Bank Nabbed Leaving Window

Visions of a burglar chase passed before a crowd of promenaders on Michigan avenue yesterday when they saw five men, carrying a suitcase, climb out a window of the Lake Shore Trust and Savings bank, 605 North Michigan avenue.

The police were notified and came running. The five men submitted to "arrest," but were released when they explained they were painters decorating the bank and had been compelled to make the unusual exit because the doors were locked.

UNITED IRISH SOCIETIES HOLD FETE TOMORROW

Tomorrow the Catholic Feast of the Assumption, known in Ireland as "Lady's Day," will be observed at Brand's park, with the forty-eight annual celebration of the United Irish Societies of Chicago, of which Patrick H. Donnelly is president.

A "Cead Mile Failte," freely translated as ten thousand welcomes, is extended to all friends of Ireland.

A number of prominent speakers will address the gathering, and Chicagoans just returned from Ireland will tell of what they witnessed there. There will be games and athletic contests, American and Irish dancing, "Treedom, not fiction," is the motto of the organization.

The other officers beside President Donnelly include Vice President William J. O'Connor, Secretary Edward McCann, Financial Secretary Thomas J. Casey, Treasurer M. H. Bright, Chairman of speakers, Col. James J. Reilly, resolutions, M. W. Cagney, games and sports, Capt. P. J. Dinneen.

— the Good Luck Rubber didn't blow out

To test the strength of GOOD LUCK Jar Rubbers in steam pressure canning, we tried this experiment.

We sealed a sound, perfect, empty glass jar with a GOOD LUCK ring and drilled a hole in the side. A piece of brass tubing was inserted in the hole and securely fastened. The tubing was then connected with the great boilers in the power house and the steam turned on.

As the index finger on the gauge dial crept slowly upward, we held our breath and watched at a respectful distance. Finally, with a loud report and a cloud of steam, the explosion took place. We turned off the pressure and investigated.

The GOOD LUCK rubber had not blown out! The glass had parted in a clean break at the shoulder of the jar, as shown in the photograph at the left, but the rubber was just as we had put it on.

GOOD LUCK Jar Rubbers WON'T "BLOW OUT." We have been saying this for a long time in our advertising. This experiment is one of the interesting ways in which we have tested it.

LAKES CHAIRMAN URGES LABOR AID FOR SHIP SUBSIDY

O'Connor Sees Help in It for Workers.

The proposed ship subsidy bill now before congress and its effect upon labor were discussed yesterday by T. V. O'Connor, vice chairman of the United States shipping board, representing the great lakes section. Mr. O'Connor advised that the laboring men of the country take a little more interest in the proposed measures, which, he said, would have a great bearing on the labor situation in America. The shipping board official pointed out that the bill would provide for the repair and manning of the ships.

Should Support Bills.
"It is puzzling to me," declared Mr. O'Connor, "that representatives of organized labor in this country should not see the moment to support the ship subsidy bill. I can speak from experience and with full appreciation of the workers' viewpoint. The bill will naturally increase shipping tonnage, and as fast as this more work will be supplied to workers in all departments, carpenters, boiler-makers, and others, and as ships are completed and put into service it naturally follows that additional men will be required to man them and keep them in repair. I cannot overlook its effect upon the welfare of the American marine as against foreign labor. Our labor, I am sure, already realizes that in making possible an American merchant marine and increasing the demand for American tonnage, we are furnishing more employment for American seamen. Not only that, but it will bring down the employment of Americans from foreign seamen who are employed."

Better Living Standard.
The plan is especially designed to secure for American labor that higher standard of living which custom has established, realizing that marine labor is so long unprotected not only from foreign competition, but also from the efficient, must be secured."

SHOCK PROBABLY FATAL.
A man is held for the recovery of a body, who, taking an American ship, was the victim of a gasoline filling station explosion at South Western avenue, Blue Island, which contact with a charged electric line led to the ground yesterday.

John G. Woolley
Feb. 15, 1880—Aug. 13, 1922.

GRANADA, Spain, Aug. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—John G. Woolley of Madison, Wis., former prohibition candidate for president of the United States, died at 11:15 o'clock this morning after an illness of some days, due to a cerebral attack. Mr. Woolley passed away before the arrival in Granada of members of his family.

WAS NATIVE OF OHIO.

John Granville Woolley was prohibition candidate for president in 1900 and was equally well known as a lawyer, lecturer and author. He was born at Collinsville, O., Feb. 15, 1880, the son of Dr. Edwin C. and Elizabeth Hunter Woolley. He graduated from Ohio Wesleyan university in 1911 and from the law school of the University of Michigan in 1913, being married the same year to Mary V. Gerhardt of Delaware, O.

Taking up the practice of law at Paris, Ill., he later moved to Minneapolis, where he was elected prosecuting attorney. He espoused the prohibition cause in New York, where he had gone to practice law in 1918, and shortly thereafter entered the lecture field and during the next few years delivered lectures favoring prohibition in most of the English speaking countries of the world.

Mr. Woolley was also the author of a number of books dealing with the liquor problem. He resided for a time in Chicago, later going to Madison, Wis., which was his home during the later years of his life. Paul G. Woolley, pathologist at the University of Cincinnati, is a surviving son.

Await More Indictments

MAISON, Ga., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—With five persons already under indictment in connection with the lynching of John Glover, a Negro, on Aug. 1, the general belief here is that there will be more true bills returned this week when the grand jury reconvenes. Those who figured in the lynching or who appeared in the mob on Broadway where the Negro's body was placed following the lynching, are subject to charges of unlawful assemblage, carrying concealed weapons, and rioting.

ELECTIONS MAY DELAY SHIP BILL UNTIL NEXT YEAR

Neither House Ready to Vote Now.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Reconvening of the house Tuesday will find the Republican leaders as reluctant to press the administration ship subsidy bill as they were when the recess was taken.

Although it was understood when the recess was consented to by President Harding that the subsidy bill would be taken up at once upon the return to work, no plans have been made for going ahead with it.

That the administration has taken no steps to obtain action on the subsidy bill at this time is officially explained as being due to the fact that the President has been engrossed with the railroad and coal strikes.

May Ask Legislation.

The President has indicated that he may ask congress to give attention to possible strike legislation. It is considered more than likely that the ship subsidy bill will not be taken up in the house at this time even if its attention is not directed to strike legislation.

President Harding's threat some months ago that he would convene congress in special session in case it failed to act upon the ship subsidy bill is not likely to be a factor. The present session will continue until the tariff bill is enacted, which may be in October. When adjournment finally is taken not more than a few weeks will remain before the regular December session. While some advocates of ship subsidy still think that the President may call a special session immediately after the election, the general view is that but little would be gained by this course.

Senate Is Reluctant.

The fact that the Republican leaders in the senate are just as reluctant as those in the house to take up the ship subsidy bill at this session is an important factor in the situation. It is recognized by administration spokesmen that nothing would be accomplished by forcing house members to go on record on the subsidy bill on the eve of the election if the senate were to refuse to take prompt action.

That prospects for early action on the ship subsidy bill are dubious is admitted in the weekly bulletin of the National Merchant Marine association, which is a strong advocate of the measure.

"With the tariff bill still in the senate's hands the way is clear for the house to take up the bill to aid the American merchant marine," says the bulletin. "It is evident, however, that there will be resistance to this. Both branches of congress are anxious to adjourn as soon as possible, and representatives from many of the agricultural districts where misunderstanding of the bill has led to opposition to it are anxious to postpone action on the measure until after the election."

MOTOR COP HURT WHEN WRECKED IN AUTO CHASE

Motorcycle Policeman William H. Beyer was injured early yesterday morning when, while chasing a speeder west in Irving Park boulevard, he collided with an automobile at North Whipple street.

Policeman Beyer and his partner, Policeman Roy Healer, were riding west in Irving Park boulevard when a large touring car sped past them at a high rate of speed. The policemen gave chase. At North Whipple street Beyer collided with an automobile driven southbound by H. Munson, 3651 Berceau avenue. Policeman Beyer was thrown from his wheel.

"Get-ready-for-school Week" begins today, and our Juvenile Floor is well equipped with everything needed by the younger generation.

Furniture You Will Like in the Living Room

SELECTING Furniture for a living room is always one of the most enjoyable things a person can do, and now the new low prices add more pleasure to this phase of decorating a house. A low, comfortable Sofa is so very hospitable, and the Chairs, Desks and Tables are so fine in design, that it is a joy to put them in your own environment. These are a few pieces in the Sale which will prove very adaptable.

At the left above is a Sofa covered in mohair of various colors. Price, $169.

Next to it is a convenient little End Table in mahogany finish, at $10.75.

The drop-front Desk of combination walnut is perfect for either the living room or hall. Price, $78.

The Sofa and Chair at the upper right are in mohair. Sofa, $195; Chair, $95. Polychrome Mirror, $19.75.

At the right, a Chaise-Longue, Chair and Footstool covered in satin, and priced at $55.

Eighth Floor, State Street

$37.50 and $19.75, respectively. They can be ordered in other covers at higher prices.

Below is a mahogany Armchair in various covers, at $35. The Ottoman, in different covers, is $22.50.

At the lower left is a comfortable Coxwell Chair which is shown in various mohair covers, at $85; with a walnut End Table at $10.50.

The Spinnet Desk above them is combination mahogany, at $45; the attractive Side Chair is $10.50, and the polychrome Mirror, $13.

A Clearance of Porch and Garden Furniture

ALL our Porch and Garden Furniture is greatly reduced for clearance, so it is possible to buy it at the very lowest prices. And the art of spending long hours out of doors is so beneficial and pleasant that it would be a mistake not to furnish your grounds now for the remainder of the Summer.

Then when the warm days have gone, the Benches and Hammocks can be stored away until next Summer. These are a few of the very large assortment of pieces:

The maple and cane Rockers (from left to right), are $8.50, $4.95 and $6.85; the turned oak Swing, 4-foot size, is $4.50, and the Stand, $7.50; the white enameled Bench is $15.75; Table, $14.50; Cat Seat, $14.50, and the Chair $12.25.

Eighth Floor, South, State

Mattresses Specially Priced
and Couch Beds at $28.75

DURING August the most noticeable thing about many of our fine Mattresses is their very low price. And when you examine a good, long curled hair mattress, in the full size, for $30, the values seem more unusual. A full size cotton felt Mattress covered with standard ticking is $15. Smaller sizes are priced proportionately low.

Couch Beds which are easily changed from a double bed for night use to an attractive couch, are priced during the August Selling at $28.75. They have an adjustable head-rest, a good felt mattress and a valance.

CHINA'S 3 WAR CHIEFS BLOCK UNITY OF CHINA

Business Men Hopeful of Gaining Peace.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

PEKING, Aug. 13.—While Sun Yat-sen's arrival in Shanghai marks the end of one step toward China's reunification, it is still a long way off. Gen. Chang Tso-lin, having wheeled 300,000 out of Peking to pay troops, now is busily preparing new demands and has also created a bureau for direct negotiations with Mongolia.

Gen. Wu Pei-fu is beginning open efforts at dictation, and his opposition threatens to upset the newly chosen cabinet, although his condemnation of Tang Shao-yih, selected for the premiership, has been discontinued.

Drafting Constitution. It was certain that the latter would not accept, but the offer was made coincident with the final dislodgement of Sun Yat-sen. The truth is that President Li Yuan Hung merely is marking time until parliament meets and sensing the fast developing temper of the people. Meanwhile he has begun the drafting of a constitution. Until this is completed any government is merely a makeshift.

Immediate financial requirements are increasing the gravity of the economic situation. The chambers of commerce are bringing pressure on parliament to omit politics and to complete the constitution. An index of the approaching crisis is the fact that the railways are handling only two-fifths of the normal traffic.

Merchants Fear Looters. Merchants refuse to buy stocks owing to the lack of demand and also because of the dangers of looting by the unpaid soldiers.

Receipts of the central government are dwindling to an amazing extent, and Chinese bankers are refusing further advances except at extortionate terms. While the ultimate outlook is hopeful, owing to activities of commercial bodies, it seems certain that China faces several months of serious embarrassment, possibly accompanied by disorders.

DRY LAW BEATEN AND BONUS LAGS IN STRAW VOTE

New York, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—New figures in the Literary Digest's poll on prohibition and the soldiers' bonus show, with a total vote of more than 600,000 tabulated, a sentiment of 1 1/2 to 1 against the present anti-liquor laws and an almost even balance of sentiment on the bonus, with the anti-bonus voters leading by 7,789. Those who favor a repeal of the prohibition amendment are outnumbered 4 to 1.

The summary of the voting, with 17,838 ballots tabulated, on the prohibition question, and about 6,000 less tabulated on the bonus, follows:

Prohibition—Those favoring continuance and strict enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law, 236,329.

Those favoring a modification of the Volstead law to permit light wines and beer, 252,099.

Those favoring repeal of the prohibition amendment, 128,500.

MEXICO TO ALTER ART. 27, TEXAS PAPER DECLARES

San Antonio, Tex., Aug. 13.—La Prensa, Spanish language newspaper printed here, today printed a special dispatch from Mexico City in which the correspondent said he had private information that the Mexican government will ask the next congress to amend the much discussed article 27 of the Mexican constitution so as to satisfy the American government with reference to the petroleum situation in that country.

The dispatch says the leaders of the next congress have declared they are perfectly willing to take under consideration the matter of amending the famous article at the first session.

The news story quotes the Excelsior, published in the Mexican capital, to the effect that a lengthy note from Secretary Hughes gives Washington's views of the harmfulness of article 27 and mentions the agrarian question and expropriation of lands.

"Bourbon Prince" Believed to Be Hiding in Yonkers

New York, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Harold Schwarz, former New Britain, Conn., factory hand and fake Bourbon prince, who fled from New York a week ago, was today reported in hiding in Yonkers, N. Y., and police of that city were given leads by New York and Boston police authorities which they were following tonight. Another rôle of the poseur de luxe, who is wanted on a charge of bigamy by the Springfield, Mass., police, that of "Tai Chu Loon, fugitive Chinese emperor," was revealed in letters written him by his fourth wife, who signed herself "Princess Tien Tao."

MAN BITTEN BY SNAKE IS SAVED BY RARE SERUM

New York, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Word today that a man's life had been saved through use of a rare snake bite serum possessed by Dr. Raymond L. Dittmar of the New York zoo was followed closely by a report from physicians of Fort Montgomery village, Rockland county, New York, that an 8 year old boy had been bitten severely there. In both cases the snake was a copperhead.

Harry Montross, the boy, was bitten in the right hand, and his father, H. T. Montross, probably saved the boy's life by cutting away the flesh around the bite. The wound was later cauterized. Ordinary measures failed to improve the condition of William McLennan, a Plainfield, N. J., carpenter, after he was bitten last Thursday. He was brought to New York, where Bellevue physicians despaired of his life until they obtained Dr. Dittmar's serum, which was made for him by a Brazilian physician. McLennan was today reported out of danger.

N. Y. GANGSTER FATALLY SHOT IN FIGHT OVER GIRL

New York, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Frank Wallace, described by the police as a gangster, was slain today in front of the Café La Vie. The forty-five persons in the café, including nine women, were taken to the station house. At 9 o'clock, sixteen hours later, the police charged one man with the killing, detained seven others as material witnesses, and released the rest. The man charged with the murder was James L. Redmond, part owner of the café. He was identified by witnesses as the man who fired five shots as Wallace fled from the café. The police said the trouble started over Miss Runa Ray, 15 years old, a member of the chorus at the Rialto Weber Revue.

Maj. Reed to Be Named U.S. Senator on Return to East

Chester, Pa., Aug. 13.—Gov. Sprout of Pennsylvania tonight announced that he would go to Washington tomorrow, where he "hoped to attend" the swearing in of Maj. David A. Reed has not been appointed yet, but the governor said he would be named immediately upon his return from Wyoming. He is expected Tuesday. Gov. Sprout left tonight for Richmond, Va.

Hettler Quality Service LUMBER

Character—

The Basis of Business as of Individual Success

The character of a business is simply the reflection of the character of the men who are operating that business and who are responsible for its policies.

That is equally true of every business, regardless of whether the commodity dealt in is lumber or clothing, soap, automobiles or safety pins.

There is no surety of satisfaction so absolute as that of dealing with a concern that you know (or can find out) has been giving thoroughly satisfactory service to a constantly widening circle of customers over a long period of years.

That is the record of this Company for more than a quarter of a century.

The safety engineer will tell you that no matter how clever are the mechanical safeguards and appliances for preventing accidents, results must finally depend upon the character and good will of the man who operates the machine.

And every thoughtful man knows that there are no systems of checking, inspecting or supervision that can guarantee quality of product as well as the good intention of the seller.

You can depend upon good service from a willing and careful organization.

The only real insurance of quality in a product is the spirit of service that inheres in the character of the producer and seller.

We are manufacturers and dealers in lumber and lumber products and sell them in wholesale and retail quantities.

Whatever your lumber requirements—whether for building or manufacturing purposes—our stocks and facilities are ample to meet your needs promptly, efficiently, reasonably—backed by a spirit of service that you will appreciate and find profitable.

A special feature—our own manufacture of kiln dried hardwood flooring, made in Chicago.

We are NOT members of the Chicago Retail Lumber Dealers' Association.

Buy Trade-marked Goods of Known Value!

In the old days of the West, stray, unbranded calves were called "Mavericks." They were without pedigree—without identity—without known value. They were just Mavericks.

Today, unbranded, unadvertised merchandise is plentiful upon the market. Because the manufacturer has not trade-marked his product, you know not whence it comes. Who is responsible for it—who sponsors its quality and vouches for its worth? Nobody! It is a Maverick among merchandise.

An advertised, trade-marked article has the 100% backing of the man who made it. If it is an established product, it is only such because it has passed the acid test of public use. If it is new, the trade-mark is the manufacturer's pledge to stand behind the article and see it make good—or make good for it. But it is his—he wants you to know it, and he tells you with his trade-mark name. An established trade-mark name protects you. BRITISH DEMAND RETRACTION OF DENBY'S SPEECH

Resent His Attack on Foreign Ships.

By J. B. POWELL.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Specialist. 1922. By The Chicago Tribune.)
SHANGHAI, Aug. 13.—The North China Daily News, the official British paper in China, today publishes a demand on behalf of the British chambers of commerce in China for an explanation of the address made by Secretary of the Navy Denby in Japan which he referred to the rough handling of American cargoes on non-American ships. Mr. Denby's speech was delivered in Yokohama on July 10, and he said:

"Instances have been known of deliberate rough handling of American freight to prejudice foreign markets against American goods. I do not understand how a foreign company could so debase itself as to fail to discharge honorably a duty entrusted to it. It is such things as that whereby trade may be indirectly a cause of war."

Calm Japs Held Up Cargoes.
It is generally understood that Mr. Denby's remarks referred to Japanese stopping practices during the world war, when the Japanese tried to stop American trade in China by holding up cargo and handling cargoes in transit at the port of Kobe. British shipping interest in the orient, however, have attributed the naval secretary's remarks as referring to them, and hence have demanded an explanation or an apology.

It is understood that they have forwarded a demand for retraction through diplomatic channels to Washington.

Attach Guilt to Selves.
The Weekly Review, an American paper here, referring to British agitation over Mr. Denby's remarks, says: "Anybody possessing moderate intelligence knows that Mr. Denby referred to the Japanese in his Yokohama address, but by picking up a new British have made people believe he referred to them."

CAVE LADY TRIED TO KILL HIM, HE TELLS THE JUDGE

Boston, Mass., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—With knees knocking together in terror, George M. White left his home, where he had kept himself barricaded for four days. Insisting on two police officers for protection, he was finally persuaded to appear in Woburn court. There he confronted his wife, Mrs. Mary White, who was to be arraigned on a charge of attempted murder of White, her sixth husband, for his insurance.

White locked himself up in his room following an alleged attempt on the part of his wife to drown him in a pond where they went fishing. Mrs. White was held in bail of $2,000 for a hearing in two weeks. White told reporters his wife regularly beat him and made life unbearable.

Ram Chaser Burns and Sinks; Crew Is Saved

New York, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—The ram chaser Lieut. Kelly of the prohibition navy took fire in the narrows of New York harbor while searching for bootleg launches and sank before she could make the Mares dry dock, Brooklyn. Two customs men and a prohibition agent, who were aboard the craft which sparks from the engine ignited the oil in the bilge, narrowly escaped death by leaping overboard and clinging to a cable of a tramp steamship. The crew was rescued by workmen from the Mares dock.

War Unbalanced Him, Takes Death He Wished

"I'd be just as well off dead," has been the oft-repeated remark of Paul Bachman, since he returned, mentally unbalanced, from fighting overseas in the war.

Yesterday his body was found hanging from a rafter at his mother's home, 4344 North Lawndale avenue. Mrs. Hermione Bachman told Irving Park police that her son had but lately been discharged from the Chicago State hospital at Dunning.

Custom-made one strap pumps of patent leather and Autumn brown calfskin. A distinctive new style enhanced in beauty by stitching that forms imitation bands and collars.

The new instep buckles are now available and the designs are most attractive. They are made in small oblong and in all sizes up to large oval shapes. Price $5 to $50.

MAIN FLOOR—WABASH SIDE

One Good Out of Seven

Painful feet differ from normal feet in the amount of the instep width used for weight bearing. In any degree of flat-foot, too much of the instep width is used, which means that some or all of the surface that should be arched is getting pressure. In any degree of cava (hump-foot), too little of the instep is used and too much weight is thrown on the heel and ball. When weight is carried only on the natural bearing surface of the foot, callouses, corns, bunions, painful cramping, and all other foot disorders quickly disappear. Nature-Treads Success in Chicago
Since opening our Chicago NATURE-TREAD SHOP, thousands of foot sufferers from this city and surrounding neighborhoods have flocked here. Heaps of arch supports, braces and elastic bands and other harmful cumbersome, expensive and habit-forming devices have been thrown in our waste basket and abandoned. Scores of Chicago's leading orthopedic surgeons are sending their foot-weary patients for NATURE-TREADS and today fifty per cent of our Chicago Shop's callers have been sent there by doctors or directed by friends who wear NATURE-TREADS. The staff of expert NATURE-TREAD fitters has been increased to make waiting unnecessary.

CHICAGO TESTIMONIAL
To the Nature-Tread Shop, Chicago:
Nature-Treads have worked miracles for my feet. My work requires that I stand many hours each day and for years I suffered from callouses, corns and general foot and leg pains due to what was diagnosed as second degree flat foot. Thanks to the Nature-Treads, which I purchased two years ago, my feet have been taken "off my mind" completely. I sure do recommend Nature-Treads.

Fit All Foot-Wear
Cleverly
NATURE-TREADS are worn even in the most dainty and delicate slippers and pumps as well as in uniforms and high shoes. There is no weight to lug around and no bulk or hardness to bulge shoes out of shape. They are changeable from one pair of shoes to another instantly. NATURE-TREADS are made of forty-five sizes, absolutely assuring a perfect fit.

The JANE RANDOLPH—6 Pieces $255

An Old Colonial Reproduction

Jane Randolph was a lady of wealth and position in the days of the Virginia Colony. She was the daughter of Richard Randolph of Curles Plantation on the James River, and of Jane Bolling, his wife, a direct descendant of Pocahontas. In 1750 she married Anthony Walke, first Supreme Court Justice of Virginia. Her distinguished collection of furniture, bequeathed to her only son, comprises many pieces of this character. All the spirit, of the old pieces, is faithfully reproduced in this mahogany set, including the curious two-tone wood knobs and burl drawer panels.

A true American set for American homes. 6 pieces, $255 as shown

Priced separately as follows:

Dresser and hand mirror	$82.50	Toilet table	$55.00
Dresser with attached mirror	85.00	Bedside table	17.50

The RADNOR GROUP—9 Pieces $575

An Old English Dining Suite

This group combines an old-world feeling with modern utility. Made in combination walnut, dark finish, with burl overlay panels of figured walnut and cherry. The 6-foot sideboard is unusually spacious with drawer and cabinet space. The server shown above makes a very roomy and decorative chest. The English refectory style table is 38 x 60 inches, and is fitted with two removable leaves. The chairs are made with removable seats and are very comfortable. 9-piece set—sideboard, server, table, five side chairs and one armchair $575
China closet, as shown in room, with cabinet base for linen, large drawer and china space $165

G. O. P. HOPES TO FACE VOTE WITH TARIFF PASSED

Not Afraid of Election, Is Consensus at Capital.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Agreement by the senate to take final action on the tariff bill next Saturday makes enactment of the measure into law before the election a probability.

While there have been many reports that the bill would be permitted to slumber in conference until the December session the impression now is that the Republicans believe they have nothing to lose and possibly something to gain by getting it on the statute books at the earliest possible date.

Delay of No Effect.

The theory is that the tariff bill as passed by a Republican house and as passed by a Republican senate will be an issue in the campaign under any circumstances and the injurious effects upon Republican candidates will be no greater if the job of tariff making is completely finished than if it is left partly done.

Final disposition of the bill also will please the protectionists who have been protesting against the uncertainty caused by the tariff tinkering which has extended now over a period of more than nineteen months.

Estimates of the time to be required by senate and house conferees to adjust differences between the bills as passed by the two branches range from a month to six weeks, even if there is no serious hitch. This would make final enactment possible some time in October or just on the eve of the election.

Senate Banks to Prevail.

If the conferees become deadlocked on some question, such as American valuation, an agreement could easily be delayed until after the election. It is the general expectation that the senate basis of foreign valuation will be accepted.

Republican senate conferees are expected to be Senator McCumber (N. D.), chairman of the finance committee; Senator Smoot (Utah) and Senator Dillingham (Vt.); Senator La Follette (Wis.), expected to vote against the bill, will be left out.

Senator Simmons (N. C.), and Senator Williams (Miss.), are the two ranking Democrats on the finance committee. In place of Senator Williams, who has not been active in the tariff debate, Senator Jones (N. M.), is likely to be named.

The house conferees will be Representative Fordney (Mich.), Green (Pa.) and Longworth (O.), Republicans, and Garner (Texas) and Collier (Miss.), Democrats.

Alleged Bandits in Park Robbery Held

Two alleged bandits who held up K. M. Felten, 1809 Indiana avenue, Friday while he was riding with a young woman in Jackson park and who robbed him of his automobile and a stickpin valued at $100, were arrested yesterday by Sergt. St. Lawrence and La Rue of the automobile detail. The car was found stripped of tires, lamps and accessories, near a garage at 5312 Love avenue.

The policemen watched the place until they saw Frank Knight, 6447 Shields avenue, and William "Hook" Grady, 7849 South Sangamon street, enter.

BANDITS BOB FELLING STATION.

Three men in an automobile, driving up to the filling station at North Horn avenue and Irving Park boulevard yesterday, suddenly drew revolvers and forced the station man to give up his cash box containing $25.

60 YEARS IN HOME OF FRIENDLESS, SHE HAS 71ST BIRTHDAY

Little Lottie Somers, a helpless invalid, was brought to the Chicago Home for the Friendless, 5033 Vincennes avenue, with thirty-two other refugees, from Fort Worin, Ark., sixty years ago. With careful treatment she got "well," and stayed there ever since. Yesterday she celebrated her 71st birthday at the institution, which has been home to her for over half a century.

Kenosha Man Loses $150; 22d Street Woman Held

Maxwell street police are holding for investigation Mrs. Rose Zimulski of 222 West 22d street on charges preferred by John Welker, a Kenosha man, staying at 570 West Madison street. Welker declares that he lost $150 while with the woman Friday. Although Mrs. Zimulski admitted being with Welker, she denied taking the money.

Tests Speed of New Car, 3 Killed, Owner Arrested

Tampa, Fla., Aug. 13.—(United News.)—P. P. Fariss, driving a new car, with seven men passengers, is declared to have "let 'er out" to see what the new machine would do. The car overturned, and three of the passengers were killed; two are in a hospital, and Fariss is arrested, charged with manslaughter.

19TH WARD RAID NETS 24 MEN AND WHOLE ARSENAL

Answering an anonymous telephone call that "something big was going on," Lieut. William Stapleton and Sergt. William O'Brien, and a cordon of police from the Maxwell street station, raided a soft drink parlor at 228 Forquar street late Saturday night. They arrested twenty-four men and captured an arsenal of weapons.

Police believe the raid will solve many of the baffling "mystery" murders of the Nineteenth ward, done under the auspices of the "Black Hand."

Sergt. O'Brien expressed the belief that the captives were formed in a "criminal organization" which has been preying upon Italians of the neighborhood.

Ginger Box Revue Wrecked on 'Rent in Advance' Rocks

New York, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—The huge electric sign for "The Ginger Box Revue," starring Mate West, is up on the facade of the Greenwich Village theater, but it is never to be lighted. Edward Perkins, producer extraordinary, has disappeared. Process servers, chorus girls, actors, stage hands, musicians, scenic artists, and others are seeking him to collect a little matter of $40,000.

"The Ginger Box Revue" was to have opened July 31. Then the theater owners demanded $1,000 a week rent in advance and Perkins departed on Aug. 5 and left no forwarding address.

Nacogdoches, Tex., Aug. 13.—Dr. M. G. Kahn, optometrist, who divides his time between Lufkin and Nacogdoches, was taken in charge by a party of masked men last night near the Anglin river. It was reported to the police today. Dr. Kahn was whipped with a rope, returned to Lufkin, and thrown out on the street.

Gambling Losses Cause Him to End Life by Gas

Writing a note for his wife, in which he explained that gambling losses and poor health were the reasons for his act, Herman Willis, 2704 43d court, turned on all the gas jets in his kitchen yesterday. He was found dead by his wife when she returned from a visit to her brother. An inquest will be held today at 10 o'clock.

Experienced Counsel— the Most Economical Purchase!

Advertising counsel, no less than legal counsel, should have behind it years of experience—and it must be altogether frank and candid.

Our study of the Relation of Advertising to Business for more than 18 years has proved that many things which pertain to merchandising and advertising have become virtually laws of commercial procedure. Candid advice, based accordingly, avoids not only the waste of money and effort in fruitless experiment—it saves what is more important and valuable—time!

For executives who help shape the advertising program of their company we have issued a remarkably candid booklet—"48 Ideas on Advertising and Merchandising." A copy will be forwarded upon request.

No Cut in Stephens Price or Quality

PRICE reductions have been the main feature of the advertising and selling efforts of several automobile companies in the last ten days. Naturally we have received many inquiries from owners, dealers and prospective buyers as to our policy on Stephens prices.

Our policy is fixed. Stephens prices will not be cut until motor cars of Stephens quality can be manufactured, through lower labor and material costs, for less money.

Our profit is fair—one that any honest manufacturer is entitled to and must have.

Every man and woman who has learned by experience that price is not the chief consideration in the purchase of any article of value—or a safe way ever to measure value—will understand and approve this position.

Stephens motor cars are manufactured in limited numbers by a hand-picked organization of engineers, mechanics and expert body builders. Every precision method and factory economy which can be used in the production of a high-grade motor car is employed.

None but the best materials are used. They are forged, machined, fitted and tested with a care and fine craftsmanship unknown today except on a few high-grade motor cars.

Of the units not manufactured by Stephens—Timken axles, Fedders radiators, Gemmer steering gears and controls, full alloy springs—each is of a type and quality found in no other car in the Stephens price group.

With all the current price cuts, therefore, the Stephens stands out—by comparison, by performance, by the experience of 20,000 owners—as the surpassing dollar value today among motor cars. We know this. We are ready to prove it by test or in competition with any other motor car in our price class.

If you are more interested in saving one or two hundred dollars than in securing lasting, dependable, luxurious transportation; high resale value; constant satisfaction and the assurance that the organization behind your motor car will continue in business—you should buy "cut price," not a Stephens.

Yet it has always been a Stephens policy that car prices shall keep step with labor and materials. Within two years, as costs could be lowered, the price of the Stephens touring car has been reduced $805, with proportional reductions on other models. No unit in any Stephens was cheapened, however, or any less care devoted to manufacture or finish.

Stephens standards will not be lowered. You cannot buy a Stephens, now or later, which does not measure up to these standards—which is not just as good a motor car of its type as we can design and build.

We want volume, yes—but not by sacrifice of quality.

ADRIATIC DOCKS, SAFE AFTER FIVE DIE IN EXPLOSION

Thousands Greet Liner in New York.

New York, Aug. 13.—[Special.]—The Italian liner Adriatic, bearing five dead and five wounded, arrived at the docks at 1:30 o'clock Friday morning. The ship, which was the first of the Adriatic line to arrive in New York, was greeted by a large crowd of curious onlookers and the crew members.

Flame 50 Feet High. Details of the accident established by the investigation reported that the explosion resulted from a spontaneous combustion in the cargo hold, sending a spouting flame 50 feet into the air, setting fire to the ship's structure and causing a large fire. The ship was towed away with the three great cranes, and the fire was extinguished. The ship proceeded at full speed at 1:55 a. m. after a detailed examination of its hull and structure.

Man Blown Overboard. Chief Engineer F. W. Ruddle said that the explosion was at work about the middle of the upper hatch over No. 3 hold. One of these, Stephen McGuire, 49 years old, a friend of Liverpool, was not found afterward and it was supposed he was blown overboard. Two of the men in the hold were killed outright. One was A. J. Dilley, fireman, 40 years old, of Liverpool. Another, Leslie Ablett, 21 years old, of Liverpool, electrician, who was arranging lights in the hold, was severely burned and died later. John A. Northan, 34 years old, of Liverpool, was so severely injured that he died. Edward Donnel, Robert McCarthy, and Simon Howland, all of Liverpool, were severely injured, but survived.

Ships Answer B. O. S. After the explosion, in answer to an B. O. S. call, the Adriatic received radio from ten steamships offering to come if required. The nearest was the Italian liner, six miles away. The French liner La Touraine was 100 miles. Both ships steamed to the position given by the Adriatic until the chief engineer reported that there was no further danger.

Although the explosion made a loud report forward of the bridge, it did not shake the ship sufficiently to wake those who were not at that end of the vessel. Lady Rhonda, who recently failed in her attempt to enter the house of lords, and her friend, Miss Smith, said that they were unaware of the accident until they went to breakfast next morning.

Passengers Collect Purse. When the passengers realized the tragedy they formed a committee and collected the sum of $3,257.45 for the families of the dead and injured men. The burial of the first victim, Redmond and Dilley, took place at 6 p. m. Friday. The bodies were sewn up in canvas with firebars and covered with the Union Jack, placed on grates at the "D" deck, aft, and lowered into the sea through the port. The other two victims, Ablett and Northan, were buried in the same manner at 8 a. m. Saturday.

Wedded 66 Years

MRS. GEO. W. HOTCHKISS. GEO. W. HOTCHKISS.

George W. Hotchkiss, 91 years old, and his wife, two years his junior, today will celebrate their sixty-sixth wedding anniversary at their home, 1615 Elmwood avenue, Evanston.

Mr. Hotchkiss is among the last of the forty-niners who went to California in search of gold; he is the oldest living lumberman; he published the world's first lumber journal. For many years Mr. Hotchkiss has been secretary emeritus of the Illinois Lumber and Material Dealers' association.

His advice to young brides and grooms Mr. and Mrs. Hotchkiss yesterday suggested this:

She said: "Exercise fifteen minutes every morning immediately upon awakening and then take a bath."

He said: "Never quarrel. Beware of a nagging wife. Be sure you love the girl and then there will be no mistake."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hotchkiss come from old Connecticut families with histories dating back before the American revolution.

$350,000 BLAZE SWEEPS HEART OF SOUTH BEND

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 13.—Fire early this morning caused a property loss estimated at $350,000. The flames, originating in the riding stable of E. H. Koehler, quickly spread to adjoining buildings, and for a time threatened to wipe out the heart of the business district. A general alarm called out the entire fire department. The firemen succeeded in confining the blaze to the east side of Michigan street.

Five three-story brick buildings and eighteen retail business houses were destroyed. The principal losers are Justice Polesdorf, Ezra Rhodes, B. H. Howwell, and Coquilard estate, owners of buildings, and the S. D. Moran electrical supply house, Public drug store, Fischer clothing company, A. Berman sporting goods store, Bagby photo studio, and Cleis & Goss jewelry house.

NOT DEAD FROM BURNING. Blood poisoning from a rusty nail in his foot caused the death yesterday of Richard Moh, 10 years old, 145 North Ashland avenue, in the St. Mary's hospital.

BOY FINANCIER IS HELD; DAD PUTS ONUS ON WOMEN

The "high finance" career of Albert Feigenbaum, 33 year old head of the Mid-State Finance and Brokerage company, 35 South Dearborn street, and student at the Lake street branch of Northwestern university, came to an abrupt halt yesterday when he was arrested at his home, 2116 North Erie street, on charges of having passed $5,700 worth of worthless checks.

The complaining witness is Louis Henning, assistant cashier of the Logan Square Trust and Savings bank. Police are also searching for Feigenbaum's partner and brother-in-law, David Down, 543 Addison street.

"I always give him all the money he needs," said Bernard Feigenbaum, the boy's father. "The automobile I just bought for him cost more than the amount of the checks. Maybe he was short of funds to satisfy the women he's been going with."

Tommy O'Connor Alarm Calls Police in Vain

"Tommy O'Connor's at 424 South Loomis street. Top floor. Hurry!" The voice which shouted the alarm over the police 1315 wire yesterday, was silent when questions were asked by the West Chicago avenue police. Two squads of detectives and two wagon loads of police responded. At the address given no one was found in the least resembling "Terrible Tommy." Attempts to trace the telephone call were unsuccessful.

ADIEU II. WINS THRILLING RACE AS RIVAL SINKS

Adieu II, owned by Webb Jay, Chicago, claimed the Chicago Beach Hotel trophy by winning the final heat of the 30 mile free for all race for runabouts at the Paganet of Progress regatta yesterday. The same race brought disaster to Janet Virginia, winner of the first race of the afternoon, which sank in the seventh lap after throwing W. Plummer, its owner, and a mechanic and crashing into the breakwater on the east turn of the course.

The accident occurred when Plummer scrudded his boat sharply to avoid hitting the steamer Yellowcraft, which had put out from the pier and was crossing in front of the speed craft. At the sharp angle of the wheel the boat careened, pitching the crew into the water. After righting itself the racer sped ahead and crashed into the breakwater at full speed and sank from sight.

Miss Liberty Forced Out.
The average speed made by Adieu II in winning the trophy was 42.1 miles. The elapsed time was 23:13.45. Miss Liberty, winner of the first heat Friday and runner up yesterday, went out in the first lap because of engine trouble.

In the first race of the afternoon for boats of the 635 class, Janet Virginia finished first with an average speed of 11.5 miles. Elapsed time was 19:40. P. D. Q. YL, owned by Dr. Stinson, finished second, and City of Chicago, owned by Al. Anton Cermak, was third.

Cecil Wins Chance Race.
The chance race for boats of all descriptions with thirty-five entries was the picturesque event of the afternoon. Cecil won with Maurice and Naranagett second and third respectively. Sallie won the 3 1/2 mile race for sailing craft followed the speed boat events. Beekman was second and Springtime third. Summary:

GARDEN OF EDEN GOLF COURSE TO BE MODEL LINKS
The Garden of Eden golf course, now under construction four miles west of Glenview, is to be the smallest and most perfect golf links in the west, according to George O'Neil, former local professional, golf architect, and chairman of the grounds committee.

The exact location is at the corner southwest of the Wheeling and Waukegan roads, a short distance from the village of Shermerville. The main auditorium will be a two-story building of old Spanish design. The garden will accommodate 2,400 guests.

Club members will be privileged to avail themselves of the many features of the Garden of Eden proper. Chick Evans Jr. had been appointed chairman of the sports and pastimes committee and will work in conjunction with Mr. O'Neil.

GOSHAWK COLT IS FASTEST OF NEW 2 YEAR OLD CROP
Sarato Springs, N. Y., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—The running of the Saratoga Special proved that there are still a few mites of good 2 year olds or a lot of mighty good ones this year, just as one cares to look at it.

A week ago, after Martinique was won by the United States hotel stakes with fifteen points more on his back than any other colt in the field, that horse stood out as the most promising of the division. But in suffering defeat in the special at even weights, the son of Martinique came in for his forward march for the championship.

Goshawk takes his place at the head of the juvenile division and now has a record of four starts and three victories to his credit.

CLYDE ALLAN CHAMP OF STATE RIFLEMEN

Camp Logan, Ill., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Clyde Allan, winner of the Chicago Tribune trophy in the Saturday shoot here, today captured the Illinois rifle championship at the close of the two day annual range competition sponsored by the Illinois State Rifle association. Allan's high score of 445 for five events entitles him to the leadership of the state civilian rifle team, which will shoot in the national championship at Camp Perry, O., in September.

T. G. Lively, Irving Park Rifle Club, Chicago, who turned in a perfect 100 in the 200 yard rapid fire event Saturday, won the individual pistol championship with a target score of 273 and will captain the Illinois pistol team in the national competition. The Chicago Rifle association trio, Lively, A. F. Browne, and C. E. Nordhus, carried away the team championship at pistols.

U. S. BONDS CUT $347,733,900 IN TWELVE MONTHS

Foreign Payments Help in the Work.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—A total of $347,733,900 of Liberty bonds and Victory notes was retired during the last fiscal year by the treasury at a cost of $333,845,899 out of repayments of principal by foreign governments and through the operations of the sinking fund. It was reported tonight by Secretary Mellon.

Bonds retired by foreign governments were 44 per cent bonds of the third loan totaling $44,337,900 face amount at a cost of $44,367,997. Repayments included $22,511,234 by the French government; $20,500,000 by the British government on account of Pittman silver; $275,600 by the Cuban government; $240,553 by the Belgian government, and $48,584,000 by the Serbian government.

"For the most part," Secretary Mellon said, "these payments were made on special account or by way of adjustment of accounts and should not be taken to indicate that any general program of repayment of the foreign obligations has begun."

WHAT IS POKER? QUERY OF UTAH, TEXAS SENATORS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—(United Press.)—Some poker expert can possibly obtain a job by applying to Senators Smoot (Utah) and Sheppard (Texas).

Sheppard yesterday ran across poker chips in the tariff bill.

"What are they?" he asked Smoot.

"I have no knowledge of the subject myself," said Smoot.

"The senator and I, after we vote this tariff of 50 per cent on them, might obtain the services of an expert to enlighten us."

"I am informed, however, that whenever one handles them or plays with them it costs money."

Sheppard said that Smoot's ignorance on the subject is just one more of his admirable qualities.

Whereupon some rude senators in the back row laughed aloud.

CATCH "CLAUSE" IN LEASE WOULD ADD NEW TAXES TO RENT

A "catch" clause inserted in several hundred fall leases submitted to tenants recently brought to the attention of the Tenants' League of Chicago, 21 North La Salle street, has been scored as unfair by officials of that organization, and members have been warned not to sign documents in which it is found.

The clause follows: "It is further agreed between parties hereto that should the taxes be increased during the term of the lease over the taxes paid for the term immediately preceding, such increase shall be paid by the tenant in addition to the rent reserved herein."

Many other "joker" clauses may be found in fall leases, said M. S. Walsh, secretary of the league, yesterday. He advised tenants to consult the legal bureau before signing.

Rents in the Sheridan road, Rogers Park, and Lake View districts, he said, have been reduced 25 per cent, and those in the Hyde Park and Woodlawn neighborhoods 15 to 20 per cent. The league, however, is insisting on holding out for a flat rent reduction of 35 per cent. Meetings are being held throughout the city wards at present to bring this to pass.

IDENTIFY NINE OF TEN DEAD IN SOO LINE WRECK

Annandale, Minn., Aug. 13.—Ten persons dead and more than two score injured was the toll tonight of the wreck on the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie railway here late yesterday when westbound passenger train No. 107 crashed into a light truck loaded with oil and then plowed into a freight train standing on a side track. The work of removing bodies was completed this morning. Nine of the bodies have been identified.

E. J. Smith of Chicago was one of the seriously injured. He suffered a possible skull fracture and was taken to a Minneapolis hospital.

Roundhouse, 15 Engines Burn; Firebugs Suspected

Portland, Me., Aug. 13.—Fifteen locomotives of the Maine Central, Boston and Maine, and Portland Terminal companies, and a roundhouse were destroyed in a fire here today. The damage is estimated at $1,000,000. The police said they suspected incendiaries. Just before the fire was discovered by deputy sheriffs two explosions were heard.

WHITNEYS WILL SIFT DANCER'S EARLY MARRIAGE

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—When the suit of Evan Burrows Fontaine against Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, for $1,000,000 for breach of promise to marry is filed in the Supreme court here tomorrow it is expected that attorneys for the Whitney family will ask for an adjournment until late in September to permit them to gather evidence of Miss Fontaine's marriage to Sterling Adler.

It is expected that the defense will make an effort to show that during the time Miss Fontaine alleged young Whitney failed to keep his promise to wed she already had a husband living. Miss Fontaine's 3 year old son is named for Mr. Whitney.

Maryland College Students Halted on Motor Tour

Four youthful students of Mount St. Mary's college, Emmetsburg, Md., are being held at the Hyde Park police station, until the father of one of them says that it was all right for them to take his automobile for a jaunt half way across the country. The lads, Timothy S. Gallagher Jr., William J. Bradley, Thomas O'Hara, and Earl Fitzsimmons, were arrested at the home of an aunt when John Gallagher, a brother, telegraphed the police. The automobile was sent home. The senior Gallagher is at present at Hebron, N. H.

CHICAGO GIRL, DRUG ADDICT, AIDS IN ARREST OF 4

New York, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—A revival of the white slave traffic was revealed today by a young and pretty Chicago girl as she sat in the office of Dr. Carleton Rhinon, special deputy police commissioner, after she had aided the police by rounding up four members of an alleged drug ring.

As a result of her story four men were arrested and four federal warrants will be obtained for the arrest of others of the alleged dope ring. The Chicago police have been notified and will round-up cadets and drug sellers in that city.

Early yesterday the girl, whose name is being withheld by the police for her own protection and for the sake of her family, who are said to be socially prominent in Chicago, applied at Bellevue hospital for treatment. She was taken to police headquarters where she declared she had made a chance acquaintance of a woman in Chicago, and that this woman had induced her to sample some morphine. Later she had become addicted to the drug.

HIGH CAR FARE DOESN'T BOTHER THESE YOUTHS

Three north side boys yesterday told the police how to have a taxi at call without paying the usual "50 cents for the first mile."

Bertie, Reilly and Peterson of Town Hall station caught the boys at Sunny-side and Claremont avenues. They are Lawrence Brylin, 18 years old, 2943 North Racine avenue; Julius Hildevein, 19, 1230 Belmont avenue, and Henry Johnson, 17, 855 Buckingham place.

They admitted that when they felt the urge to ride they stepped into the nearest auto and drove away. Business or pleasure ended, they stepped to the curb. If the car was still there they used it again. If not they stole another. Their only discrimination was that the cars must be costly and handsome. They took no rides last night—says one to Town Hall.

Dance Pavilion Falls Into Lake, 20 Injured

Sheraton, Pa., Aug. 13.—A crowded dancing pavilion at Lake Wenola, near here, collapsed last night, hurling a score of dancers into the lake. Twenty persons were injured. The pavilion was erected over the lake and hundreds of persons were dancing. Suddenly the far end of the dance hall slipped into the lake. Screams of women as they were dashed into the water brought the entire summer colony to the lake shore and many aided in rescue work. Physicians from Sheraton were summoned to give first aid to the injured. No loss of life was reported.

Oregon Calls De la Huerta to His Forced Lake Retreat

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) Mexico City, Aug. 13.—President Obregon yesterday wired that he will remain at Port Jalcisco, Lake Chapala, for another week, on his doctor's orders. He requested the presence there of Minister of the Interior Calles de la Huerta, for a conference on important national and foreign matters. After the conference Señor de la Huerta will go to Sonora.

Corns Go Blue-jay to your druggist

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. A touch stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in a colorless clear liquid (one drop does it) and in extra thin plaster. The action is the same.

WOMEN WHO DO THINGS want a paper that does things. So they read THE TRIBUNE—365 days a year.

Send Today For The Tribune's New FREE BOOK On Making WANT ADS PULL More Inquiries

THOUSANDS of people write thousands of Want Ads every day which cause the sale and exchange of hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of goods, service, commodities—everything which man has use for. Advertisers simply make a list of the important details of their offer, then they list these factors in the order of their importance, then they write their Want Ads. Although more than 3,000,000 replies are distributed annually at The Tribune Want Ad Post Office in response to box number Want Ads alone, sometimes, through faulty construction, a Want Ad does not pull as many inquiries as it should.

Inquiries mean dollars to advertisers. More inquiries mean more dollars. Therefore The Tribune has conceived the idea of making every Want Ad pull for its advertiser the greatest number of inquiries of which it is capable. Offers vary greatly. Differences in requirements are many, and that is the reason it is necessary to tell enough about your offer. Then the reader will know whether yours is the offer for which he is looking. The Tribune's new booklet, "Wording a Want Ad to Make it Pay," is a complete exposition of the well written Want Ad. It is free to those who ask for it. The edition is limited. Send for your copy today!

—Ford finds a home through detailed ad

THE X Used Car Exchange had a Ford for sale, so a Want Ad was placed in The Tribune:

FORD—1921—411—overhauled, good tires, $350.00. 2000 Cottage Grove, Dorchester 0000.

The above ad ran without selling the Ford, so Mr. R., manager of the company, headed the "Tell More" credo and ran the following amplified ad:

FORD TOURING 1921; like new; motor perfect; original finish; dem. fine; 3 cars; live; only $350. X USED CAR EXCHANGE 2000 Cottage Grove, Dorchester 0000.

This Want Ad, Mr. R. stated, brought wonderful results. It not only sold the car advertised, but two other cars also. "The more you tell, the quicker you sell."

Phone Your Ad

Call Central 0100 and ask for an Ad-taker. If you have a telephone, your Want Ad will be inserted and a bill sent you later. The Tribune always carries 40,000 to 70,000 accounts entered in this way over the phone. Remember this easy and convenient method of ordering a Want Ad.

OUTLINES are useful in the wording of a Want Ad. You need not include all the items mentioned, but how many you ought to include will depend on the nature of your offer. Intelligent use of the many outlines in "Wording a Want Ad" will net greater returns from your Want Ads.

Airplane Serves as Wedding Altar for Chicago Couple—Englewood Girl Crowned "Queen of Queens"

QUEEN OF THEM ALL. Miss Georgia Hale, Englewood's candidate, was crowned "Miss America" after a spirited contest in which seventeen Chicago neighborhoods and other cities participated at Pageant. Photo shows Miss Hale receiving congratulations.

CHICAGO HAD PLENTY OF COAL IN APRIL. That seems evident from this photograph taken at that time at the yards of the Byproducts Coke company of South Chicago. Although it was a time of heavy demand the yard had plenty of coal on hand.

BUT CHICAGO HASN'T GOT MUCH COAL NOW. As the result of the railway and coal miners' strikes the city is said to be facing one of the most critical fuel situations in recent history. This photo shows the same coal yard and the supply on hand Saturday.

GATE RECEIPTS WERE LACKING, but the thrills were plenty in an open air exhibition given at Wilson beach by Frankie Callahan (left) and Jack Britton, world's champion welterweight.

DELEGATE to Inter-allied Parliamentary union in Switzerland is H. M. Pindell of Peoria, Ill.

JOCKEY OF WINNING AIR RACER. Q. D. Freeman won the airplane derby staged in an aerial revue by Chicago aviators at Checkerboard field yesterday.

RODOLPH'S RIVAL. B. C. Jones of Grand Rapids, Mich., whom his wife calls a sheik in divorce suit.

"I'VE TOO MANY RIVALS," says Mrs. Emily Jones of Chicago in her suit.

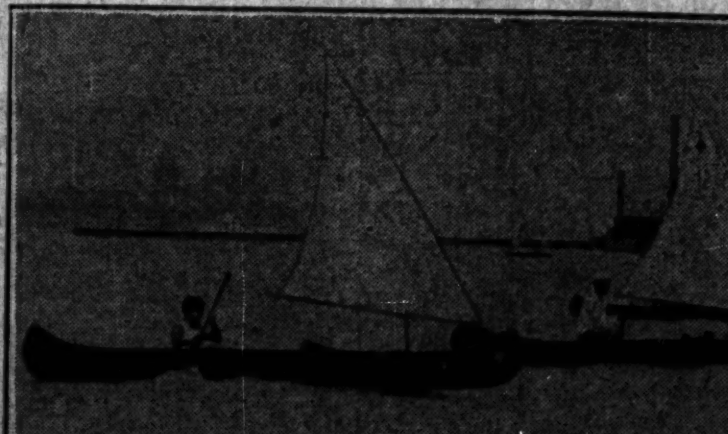

U. S. GOOD WILL DELEGATES ARRIVE IN PARIS. Photo shows Miss Anne Morgan (center) greeting delegation of women from the United States at the station of St. Lazare. The women are touring devastated France in the interests of charity.

BATTING HONORS of American League are now held by George Sisler of St. Louis with 411 average.

LEAPING 1,000 FEET IN SAFETY. Ben Grew did it yesterday at Checkerboard field. Photo shows the parachute just after it opened.

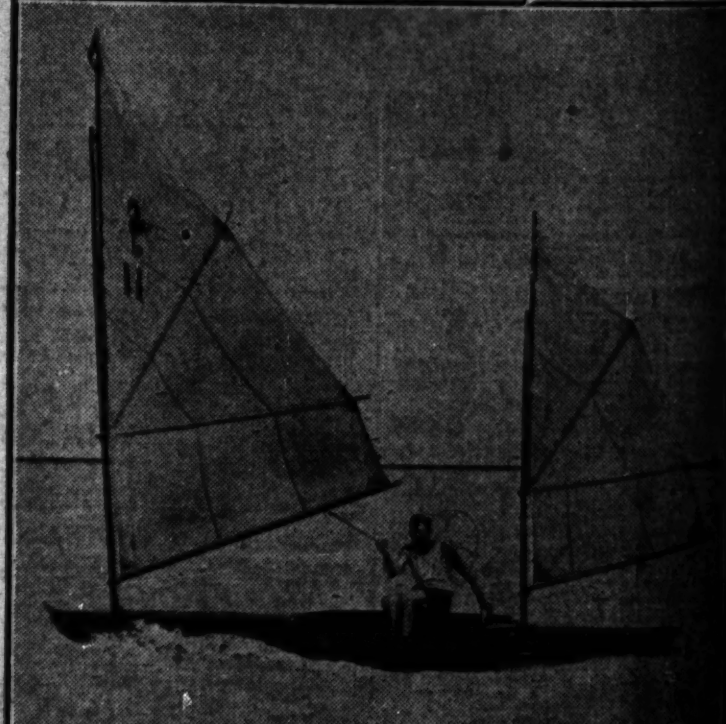

READY FOR A CONTEST OF THRILLS. Here is shown the start of the sailing canoe race staged yesterday by the Chicago Yacht club at the foot of Monroe street. Because of the skill required and the perils incident to such a contest it attracted great interest. Thirteen clubs were represented.

BACK TO EARTH WITH A KISS. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burt of Chicago are shown landing after they had been "wed among the clouds" in Eddie Stinson's plane.
